

Editors' Picks: 15 Things to See in New York This Week

Sarah Cascone

May 21, 2018

Harmony Hammond, Lesbian Dreams (1992). Courtesy of Alexander Gray Associates.

Each week, we search New York City for the most exciting, and thought-provoking, shows, screenings, and events. See them below.

Harmony Hammond, Inappropriate Longings (1992), detail. Courtesy of Alexander Gray Associates.

11. “Harmony Hammond: Inappropriate Longings” at Alexander Gray Associates

A major figure of New York’s feminist art movement in the 1970s, Harmony Hammond offers a series of works from the 1990s, including mixed-media paintings and works on paper, as well as an installation, at her third solo show at Alexander Gray. “The fact that most of these materials have been discarded in some way references the lives and creative histories of those who have been relegated to the margins of culture,” the artist, known for her interrogation of queer themes, told ArtForum.

Location: Alexander Gray Associates, 510 West 26th Street

Price: Free

Time: Tuesday–Saturday, 11 a.m.–6 p.m.

—Sarah Cascone