

The Top 7 Art Exhibitions to see in London in August

Art critic Tabish Khan brings you 'The Top Art Exhibitions to see in London'. Each one comes with a concise review to help you decide whether it's for you. All end soon, so hurry if you want to catch them. All but one of his top picks from last week are still open, so there's a chance to catch them too:

Frank Bowling @ Tate Britain

Colour explodes from the walls in this collection of big bold paintings that are a joy to behold. It's about time Frank Bowling got his dues and this Tate Britain show is it — plus he still going at age 85, what a legend. It's not just gorgeous paintings there are political themes too including migration, homelessness and colonialism contained within his work. Any fan of painting must visit this long overdue retrospective. Until 26 August.
