

NOVEMBER 2-8, 1994

◆ Richard Anderson, 476 Broome St. (betw. Wooster & Greene Sts.), 431-8547. Hugh Steers, "Paintings and Works on Paper." Straightforward, cleanly painted works devoted to "Hospital Man," a male figure in hospital gown and high heels. The works are about eroticism and illness—in this case AIDS. At first glance, as when visiting any patient, all we can see or feel is pain and our fear. Stay a while and something of joy, humor and playful allusion is revealed [through 11/26].
